Seen, Heard and Told

The little son of a local preacher said a bad word. His mother proceeded to give him a good lecture about using such words. "Did God hear me, mother," he said. "Yes indeed," the mother replied. The little fellow moved several feet away and said something, then asked if God heard him, to which his mother again replied, "Yes." The little fellow moved out in the hall around the corner, then asked his mother if God heard him. "Yes, my son," she said. "No He didn't," said the son, for I didn't say anything."

L. C. Howard, it is reported, took off about four days from running for sheriff this week to bail out his storm cellar in preparation for Wednesday, the anniversary of the day when the tornado hit Grenada last year.

Andrew spent almost a week in camp last week.

Bill Salter of the Air Corps at San Angelo, Texas, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Salter last week-end.

As owner of an "X" gasoline cad—the N, nothing—and from a strictly impersonal and unselfish motive, I think that most, if not all of the traffic lights in Grenada are damn nuisances.

In traveling, we will say, from Newt Rayburn's up Main Street to the 2nd Class Drug Store, it is more than probable that a car will consume more gas waiting for the lights to change than in propelling the car for that distance

If there is one traffic light in Grenada that justifies its existence it is the light near the post office. Other lights, and possibly that one are superfluous.

The traffic light down where College Street and Main Street join has no justification whatever for being there. When green shows toward the north and south, every car can move; when green shows east and west, nothing can move, for there are no streets leading in those directions. The light near Lott's filling station is almost as confusing.

While I should fortify myself with the figures, I am sure the cost of the power consumed by the lights is a consideable sum. This sum spent uselessly and other sums by the City are the reasons that my taxes (and, perhaps) your taxes are twice as much in the City as in the county for IDNETICAL property.

It looks like a damn shame that a man, having only four gallons of gas a week, has to spend so much of that precious gas waiting for lightst to change. The necessary and frequent starts and stops are wasteful of irreplacible rubber which, after all, is the reason for gas rationing.

I read or heard somewhere from what I took to be authentic sources that the goverament recommended the abandonment of all traffic lightts on intersections where less than 1,000 vehicles per hour passed. With that rule of reason in mind, how long would ANY traffic light in Grenada be in operation?

I cannot help but think of Gulfport with a 1940 population of 15,195—almost three times the 1940 population of Grenada has NO traffic lights and NEVER has had any.

Waste of electric power. Waste of money for that power. Waste of precious time. Waste of gasoline. Waste of rubber. These are the unnecessary wastes occasioned by the useless traffic lights of Grenada.

New York City and Chicago may need traffic lights Grenada does not.

I understand that Greenwood—with only a handfull of soldiers when compared with Grenada's teeming thousands—has THREE large places for the entertainment of soldiers. If the USO is not at fault for the condition here, and if some government agency has the duty of providing adequate quarters, whythehell does not the USO work its rabbit foot and stir up the government agency? Grenada is absolutely swamped today. What will happen when thousands of rookies, now in quarantine, are turned loose upon Grenada, each of them seeking some form of diversion which, theoretically, the USO is supposed to provide?

Why is it that Centerville can get an immense housing project, and Greenwood is scheduled to have 178 new housing units within 60 days, and Grenada cannot get anything. Grenada not only has a huge camp and a large air base, but it has a vital defense plant (none of which Greenwood or Centerville) whose workers are entitled to a comfortable place to rest of this office.

T. E. "Bud" Tribble Died In Greenville Last Thursday

Mr. T. E. "Bud" Tribble, native of this county, died in his home in Greenville from a heart attack last Thursday, March 11, 1943.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tribble, and was born in the Oxberry community in western Grenada county about 32 years ago. He attended the schools that the community and the times afforded (The writer remembers that Bud and I were in the first grade at the school held in an old store building at Oxberry).

At one time he served as Deputy Sheriff and Jailor of Grenada county. At the time of his death, he was employed as civilian guard at the Greenville Army Air Base, and, until just before his death, seemed to be in excellent health.

Surviving him are his widow, one son and two daughters of Greenville; two sisters, Mrs. Ollie Anthony of Grenada, and Mrs. Claud Maxey, of Brazil, Indiana; and four brothers, A. M. and L. M. Tribble, of Washington, D. C., A. F. Tribble, of Tunica and A. B. Tribble, of Memphis.

The funeral was held in Greenville on Sunday, permitting most of his brothers and sisters to attend.

To the bereaved ones, we extend our deepest sympathy.

General Mixture Co-Mingled In Progrnm Of Party

Truth and consequences, facts and fancy, mud and rain, co-mingled in the program of an informal party held in the day room of the 443rd Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron, Friday night, March 12, 1943. It was the first party of this nature put on by the men of the new Army Air Base and although the program was initiated by an abundance of wall-flowers and few participants, ere the evening began to wane the usual embarrassment of Pvt. John Doe had vanished and all participated freely in the festivities.

Pvt. Sidney Weinberg, acting as Master of Ceremonies, made a "crash landing" into the walls of embarrassment that seem to surround the newcomers and finally "pancaked" into a general mix up after which everybody participated freely in dancing, games and impromptu stunts.

Hostesses for the party were Mesdames Cecil Penn, Rebecca Davis and H. A. Alexander, all of Grenada and of the hits of the evening was the featured "blues" singing of Miss Sue Willis. Other features of the party were piano and vocal selections by Pvt. Lewis Ignasiak, and an Irish Jig by Private Steven A. Anthony.

Mrs. E. A. Penn has returned from a month's visit with relatives in Tennessee. She visited her mother, Mrs. R. B. Hager, her sister, Mrs. John Draughon and son, Mr John Akin in Nashville and daughter, Mrs. Con Newsome in Fayetteville. Mr. Penn met his wife in Memphis to accompany her home.

Chester Williams paid in his good money several weeks ago, but got lost in the shuffle. However, we hope, he will not miss any more copies.

Monroe Williams Makes Second Bid For Supervisor

J. M. (Monroe) Williams has pitched his hat for the second time into the ring, and is a full-fledged candidate again for the important office of supervisor of District Two, the eastern area of Grenada County, east of the river.

Having been born and reared in that district and having married and reared his own family there, it is idle and futile to seek to introduce him to the people of that district. He and his folks have been there for generations. Therefore he should be familiar with the conditions existing there.

He has constructive ideas of the duties of the office and the needs of his native beat, and solicts an opportunity to discuss them with the electorate of Beat Two before the people committhemselves otherwise.

He proposes to see every voter in the beat and put the issues squarely up to them.

"Something Doing Each Night"

"Something doing each night" the slogan which the Special Service Officer intends to follow is climaxed this week by the information that Fred Waring, nationally known band leader of the equally famous Pennsylvanians, is dedicating his program of March 23, to the 87th Infantry Division, commanded by Major General P. W. Clarkson.

This national radio show is the beginning of a varied and interesting series of events planned and prepared to entertain the newly arrived teenage soldiers of the 87th Division.

Although the movie houses rank high as a favorite means of relaxation the Service Clubs, with their libraries, soda counters and ball rooms are still jammed each evening. The Military Maids of Grenada and Winona always supply enough young ladies to make the dances successful affairs.

Plans are underway to provide the young soldiers with athletic equipment so that they may engage in different sports after training hours. Competitive spirit will be encouraged by scheduling games between units of the 87th Division.

Large Bakery In Operation At Camp McCain

One of the largest bakeries used in the U. S. Army, with the latest and most modern equipment has been placed in operation at Camp McCain, according to an announcement made today by Colonel Ira E. Ryder, Commanding Officer.

Under the direction of Lt. Joseph W. Stickley, the bakery has been installed and is now producing 16,000 ponds of bread daily. It has a normal capacity of 22,000 pounds and in an emergency 26,000 pounds every 16 hours. Thirty-nine men are required to operate the bakery on two shifts of eight hours each.

The machinery is of the most recent type and is set up in a "U" so the dough travels from the overhead flour hoppers to the mixing machines, fermentation rooms, dividers, rollers, proof rooms, and finally to the bake ovens. Everything possible has been done to make for efficiency and economy of operation so the soldiers can have the best bread possible, baked under ideal sanitary conditions and at the lowest cost practical.

Only the finest ingredients are used and only thoroughly capable and experienced mixers and operators are employed. The employees have adopter the motto: "If they can do it over there, we can do it here."

Several from Greenwood came over Sunday afternoon to see a railroad train.

H. B. Vanderberg For State Senate

Mr. H. B. Vanderberg of Water Valley is this week announcing his candidacy for State Senate from Grenada and Yalobusha Counties, these two counties comprising the 28th Senatorial District. Mr. Vanderberg is very desirous of serving in this capacity and plans to see and meet as many voters as possible and discuss with them the issues of the campaign.

Butler Vanderberg is peculiarly qualified to serve as State Senator. Although born in Panola county, he has spent a major portion of his life in Water Valley where he was connected with the railroad for many years, and serving for the past several years as Alderman, being elected last term without opposition. He has served as Deacon in the Baptist Church for twenty-eight years. He is a member of the Odd Fellows and Masons. At present he is engaged in dairying and farming. He has served on legislative committees appearing before the legislature many times, and is thoroughly acquainted with legislative matters.

He is a hard-worker, acquainted with the problems of the average man, conversant with every issue coming before the legislature, and with a desire to make this a better world. Mr. Vanderberg feels he is qualified to serve the people of Yalobusha and Grenada counties.—Conservia Courier.

Below is his announcement:

"In making my announcement for the Senate to represent Yalobusha and Grenada counties, I realize the biggest job that we Americans have before us today is winning the war, and I want to assure each and every one that I am willing and will stand ready at all times to work and help in this great conflict.

"I want you good people to know that I will stand ready at all times to listen and consider what any one has to say or any advice they want to give me. I assure each and every one that I will conduct the affairs and business of the office in a way that they will never regret that they voted for me.

"If I am elected I will vote and use my influence to see that our school teachers get more pay, and I will give all the aid that I can to help the old people of our State.

"In the past several years it has been my privilege to visit Mexico and Canada and attend some very important meetings in the United States and hear some of the outstanding men of America talk, and after hearing different ones, I was convinced that there is just a little prejudice existing in some of their hearts and minds.

"I want to give you the following on prejudice:

"The word Prejudice is the black sheep, the outcast, the repulsive degenerate of the Royal Family of Words.

"Prejudice is the mockery of justice, the chief of reputation. It found the fagots, lighted the fires of martrydom around the World. It stoned Stephen, imprisoned Paul, cast Daniel, in the lion's den, bathed Gethsemane in tears, wove the Crown of thorns, reared the cross, and crucified the Son of God.

"My friends, regardless of whether I am elected or not, I am appealing to each and every loyal citizen to lay aside prejudice and join hands in order that we may have victory in this awful conflict."

H. B. Vanderberg.

Clayton Carpenter Announces For Sheriff

Following this brief announcement is a signed statement from Mr. Clayton Carpenter, candidate for Sheriff of Grenada County.

Mr. Carpenter certainly has the experience in the field and office work devolving upon the highest officer in the county, as he served as deputy under his father, the late Sheriff Carpenter, and is serving his third year as deputy under the present Sheriff, Mr. T. T. Hayward. Having made one race for this office, even if an unsuccessful one, and having mixed and mingled with our people for many years, he is acquainted with almost every person in Grenada County, and they with him.

His statement follows:

To the Citizens of Grenada County:

In asking you to support me for the office of Sheriff of Grenada County, I do so realizing the responsibility of the official you select. I feel that my experience as deputy will help me give you the kind of service you will expect, if you should favor me with the office.

I intend to make an active campaign and hope to see every voter. In making this campaign I want you to feel free to ask me any question you like as to how I will try to perform the duties of the office, if elected.

I will be deeply grateful for your support and if elected will serve you to the very best of my ability.

Your respectfully,
CLAYTON CARPENTER.

PVT. ROBERT S. MARTERS

Wedding Marches Vs. Military Marches

Military marches offer no competition to wedding marches in so far as the men of the 87th Infantry Division are concernel, according to the latest report on recent marriages which have occurred in the division Chapels.

Among the marriages was that of Lieutenant and Mrs. James Henry Fox. Mrs. Fox is the former Doris Batcheler, of Memphis.

The list of recent weddings include that of Captain and Mrs. Frederick W. Hower, Lieut. and Mrs. Lawrence E. McNutt, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Dyver Ellis, Lieut. and Mrs. Virgil Preston Rice, Sgt. and Mrs. Chester C. Milliken, Sgt. and Mrs. Charles E. Garwood, Sgt. and Mrs. Francis A. Hangenback, Sgt. and Mrs. Lyle Brown and Pvt. and Mrs. Henry Lang, Jr.

If YOU think the traffic lights are useless and expensive tell YOUR mayor and YOUR aldermen. Do not tell me and Mr. Jones who thoroughly agree on this proposition.

Mrs. Lillian P. Pressgrove Died Tuesday Morning

Death wrote "Finis" on the long and useful career of Mrs. Lillian Perry Pressgrove early Tuesday morning, March 16, 1943 at Grenada Hospital, and at the same time stopped her painful and hopeless struggle against an incurable ailment.

"Miss Lillie", as she was known to almost everyone, was the daughter of the late Mr. John C. Perry and Mrs. Susan Ann Perrty and was born on October 27, 1876 in the Perry home at Graysport.

On January 18, 1898, she and Mr. Rice Pressgrove were married. Mr. Pressgrove died September 2, 1932. She was a life long member of the Baptist Church and not only took great interest in the church itself, but in the woman's work, having been district head of the W. M. U. for many years. She was kindly and gentle to everyone, thoughtful of the feeling of others, and was a good wife and a good mother. Little more can be added to the praise of anyone.

Services, held at the home of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank York, were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Glen E. Wiley, assisted by Rev J. M. Moore. Brother Wiley spoke on the beauty of Christian motherhood most eloquently and in this case most appropriately.

Pallbearers were the active ushers of the 1st Baptist Church; honorary pallbearers were the Deacons of the Church.

Three sons, John, Rice and Andrew and one daughter, Mrs. Frank York; one brother, J. B. Perry, Sr., and one sister, Mrs. Elizabth Brown, survive.

To them our deepest sympathy is expressed.

First Aid Courses Offered At Camp McCain

First Aid Courses, similar to those in which millions of civilians have enrolled, will be offered at Camp McCain, according to Mr. William V. Alesi, Red Cross Field Director. Mr. Charles W. Russell, representative from National Headquarters of the Red Cross, will arrive here on March 22 to teach an instructors' course to selected Army personal.

Before his appointment as a special field representative of the First Aid, Water Safety and Accident Prevention Service of the American Red Cross, Mr. Russell was for eight years a first aid and water safety instructor of the Lee County, Florida Chapter of the Red Cross, and for seven years he was a member of the faculty at the Red Cross National Aquatic School at Brevard, N. C., as a water safety instructor.

He was recreational director of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration at Fort Myers and athletic director of Keewaydin clubs, Naples, Florida. In addition to being an authority on small craft, he also designs and builds canoes.

A champion archer, Mr. Russell starred in the Grantland Rice Sportlight, "Hunting Thrill," a moving picture of archery fishing for tarpon from a canoe.

The first aid training has been introduced with the approval of Colonel Ira E. Ryder, Commander at the Post.

Mr. Alesi declared that, "Training in first aid not only teaches correct emergency treatment to victims of an accident, it also develops an attitude toward accident prevention. Unnecessary accidents can interfere with orderly military instruction just as they can with the work of an industry. It is hoped too, that the men will carry their knowledge of first aid and accident prevention into civilian life after the war."

The instructors' course under the Red Cross representative will cover Standard and Advanced First Aid, to be taught later to large groups of enlisted men. Among the subjects included are prompt and correct action in the use of tourniquets, bandages, and splints, proper method of controlling severe bleeding, how to treat shock, and how to administer artificial respiration. The soldier with first aid training will know what to do and what not to do before medical aid arrives.

"While Red Cross First Aid developed as the result of the best medical experiences and practices, it is lay training," Mr. Alesi explained. "Therefore, it in no sense supplants any of the work of the medical officers or the medical service of the Army."

HURD-EDWARDS

Chas. Hurd, Jr., U. S. Army, and Miss Julia Edwards, of Holcomb, were married on March 10, 1943 at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. E. R. Henderson.

After these rookies get out of quarantine and after the first pay day, nobody knows how much money will circulate.

PENN-SCHUMAKER

Of outstanding interest was the wedding of Miss Grace Schumaker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Schumaker, of Des Moines, Iowa, to Mr. Ernest E. Penn, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Penn, of Grenada, which was solemnized with quiet dignity at All Saints Episcopal Church on Friday afternoon, March 12, 1943, at five-thirty. The Rev. C. S. Liles, rector, officiated in the presence of a group of relatives and friends.

Lovely Picardy gladioli and broad-leaf ferns arranged in white wicker baskets supported in white enameled wrought iron stands, flanked the steps of the church and within the altar rail were placed floor candelabras holding tall white tapers. The brass vases on the altar held lovely white carnations and the lighted tapers from the altar and the candelabras cast a lovely subdued light over the nuptial scene.

Mrs. W. M. Mitchell, organist and Mrs. Walter Garner presented the nuptial music. Mrs. Mitchell's first solo was "To An Evening Star" and she accompanied Mrs. Garner, gifted soprano, when she sang, "O Perfect Love." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Edith Penn, sister of the groom was a charming bride's maid. She chose a lovely spring ensemble of pink with matching hat Her bouquet was of pink roses and blue Iris.

The groom was attended by his boynood friend, Mr. Jones Allison.

The bride, beautifully attired in a traveling suit of soldier blue, carried an arm bouquet of white roses which were tied with white satin ribbon. Her small blue hat with shoulder length veil of the same shade, was a most attractive accessory to adorn her blond hair. She entered the church on the arm of Colonel Lipscomb, who in the absence of a member of her family, gave her in marriage.

The bride is a graduate of the high school and business school of Des Moines and since coming to Grenada has held a responsible position with the Western Union Station at Camp McCain. She has a charming and sweet manner, and has made many friends here in Grenada. She made her home with Rev. and Mrs. Liles at the rectory.

The groom is a member of one of Grenada's established and honored families. He is a graduate of G. H. S. and attended the University of Mississippi after graduating from high school. He is now employed at Camp McCain Postoffice.

The young couple spent a brief honeymoon in Memphis and are at home at the groom's parents home on Third Street.

MARCH MEETING OF U. D. C.

The Grenada Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy will hold their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Glenn D. Thomason on Snider Street, and every member is urgently requested to be present Thursday, March 25th. Important budness.

Those who failed to come to the February meeting at the home of our esteemed honorary member, Mrs. B. F. Thomas, missed a great treat, as Gen. Percy M. Clarkson, head of 87th Division, U. S. Infantry, Camp McCain was our guest speaker and gave a most interesting and appreciated talk on the work and aim of our Camp McCain; and as an especial favor, Mrs. Walter V. Davis reviewed the History of the Founding of the organization of "United Daughters of the Confederacy" in her own easy graceful style. To both, the Chapter feels a deep sense of gratitude. The president then gave a short talk on the life of Sidney Lanier, one of the Sotuhern Confederacy's greatest heroes, an artist of the first magnitude. His bird-like flute notes inspired our soldiers to greater deeds of valor throughout the War Between the States, and it was through his inspiration that "Stratford," the birthplace of Gen. Robert E. Lee was made into a Shrine, voiced through the leader of a Conecticutt Chapter. To have his name placed in the Hall of Fame is one of the chief aims of the Daughters.

And to Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Granberry the Chapter owes a vote of gratitude for the privilege of meeting in their home.—Reporter.

He is a senior and member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

The carnival, most important social function held annually at the College, will be held on April 3. Election to the court is an especially high honor because the entire student body competes.

Camp McCain News

PATTERSON-SANDERSON

This week we'll begin the column by telling about the Sanderson-Patterson wedding, for it was very lovely. The marriage was solemnized last Friday at eight o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Grenada. The Rev. G. E. Wiley officiated, and made the simple single-ring ceremony very touching and impressive. The altar was decorated with gladolis and the whole church softly lighted, The organist, Miss Katherine Wilson, played the traditional wedding music, beginning with "I Love You Truly". The officer friends of the groom acted as ushers, and Miss Margie Smith, in a soft yellow suit and tiny hat, was the bride's only attendant.

The bride, the former Miss Louise Sanderson, of Grenada, wore a tomato red suit, with a brown hat trimmed with beige loops. Her other accessories were also brown and beige, which set off her dark beauty very well.

The groom, Lt. Samuel Patterson of the 346th Infantry at Camp McCain, was of course in uniform.

Mrs. Patterson attended Ole Miss and graduated from L. S. U. in 1942. She was a member of the Kappa Delta sorority, and was very popular both on campus and here in Grenada.

Lt. Patterson is from Lynchburg, Va. They are making their home in Grenada at present.

PENN-SCHUMAKER

The Penn-Schumaker wedding took place on last Friday, too, at 5:30, at the Episcopal Church. We hear it was equally lovely, and you'll find the details elsewhere in the paper. Both Grace and Ernie are working at Camp, you know, and will make their home permanently in Grenada.

To jump from weddings to leave-taking, we hate to announce that the popular Dick Groomes are planning to leave Grenada this week. They are going to Fayetteville Miss., where their home is. Mr. Groome was connected with Robinson and Young on the job here, and was very well liked.

Mr. Scrivener left the construction force last Thursday and is now connected quite permanently with the Ordnance Office at Camp.

Miss Jean Thomas of Duck Hill and of the construction gang also left to work in the Finance Departtment at Camp for the "duration."

Everyone who knew him on the job regretted to see the very likeable, easy going, but very efficient Mr. H. D. Frye leave Grenada. He is now in Kingsport, connected with the Chas. T. Main Co.

Speaking about the little group still left of the Architect Engineers and Army Engineer forces, we are very proud to see how very liberally they all gave to the Red Cross. The total intake is, so far, over $250.00, and there is more being collected all the time. That sum was contributed by personal donations of the remaining forces of the U. S. Engineers and the Architect-Engineers.

Another organization doing fine work for the soldiers and the community is the USO-Military Maids. Yes, there's been a merger, planned and voted on at a meeting held this Monday night at the USO Center. Mrs. Alexander presided at the meeeting. Mrs. Ross of the USO read the plans of the proposed merger, and introduced Col. Grace Robinson, Commanding Officer of the Military Maids, who gave a broef talk on the set-up of her organization. She stressed the point of the necessity and supreme importance of the cooperation of the girls, to make the proposed plan a success. Most of the girls were present, as were the captains of the Companies and the other officers.

Miss Frances O'Keefe was elected secreeary of the consolidated organization, known as the GSO.

The out of town guest speaker was Mr. Larry Cairns, of the National Program Construction of the Army and Navy, a very active branch of the Y. M. C. A. He gave a brief outline of what the USO organization in various cities are doing.

Col. Ira Ryder complimented the girls very highly on their attendance, appearance and cooperation and said that he believed the transportation problem nearly solved.

The other guest speakers for the camp were: Col. L. Castarr, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1, 87th Division, who gave a very complimentary talk to the girls; Capt. Sprague, who gave an equally encouraging talk, and Lt. E. J. Paris, a Special Service Oeicer from the camp.

The Air Base was represented by Private Theodere Oxman Private Oxman kindly consented to sit in on the meeting to represent the Air Base and thanked the sponsors and the girls for their presence at the Air Base parties.

There will be regular monthly meetings the fourth Monday of every month at eight o'clock at the USO Center. All girls are urged to attend.

Eastland And Abernethy Would Exempt Service Men

Senator Eastland and Congressman Abernethy issued the following statement:

"When a man or woman signs on the dotted line for service in the armed branches, he or she offers another life for our country. The many sacrifices made by these men and women warrant something extra on the part of the Government excepting granting the privilege of dyng for one's country. from the lowest private or seaman to the highest general or admiral, we believe our fighters should be exempt from all taxation on their government income during the war.

"The total thus exempted by the Government will far more than repay itself in added morale in the armed forces. This is just common sense. During World War No. 1, 3,900,000 men took out government insurance. After the discharge of these men, only 600,000 retained their government insurance. The money paid the Gopernment as premiums by the other 3,300,000 became forfeit to the Veterans Administration. It reached an immense total—really enough to pay all claims on men and women who lost their lives in the war. Thus, the soldiers and sailors of the last war fought and won a war, and then paid the death policies of the comrades who made the supreme sacrifice.

"We want nothing like this to happen again. We do not want to force our soldiers and sailors to help pay the support of the Governmen; they are fighting to perpetuate.

"The total loss to the Treasury by this complete exemption from income tax of men and women in the armed forces is a trifling sum as compared with total government income and expenditures."

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

The GCW gives the camp a world of publicity. Fair play would demand that the camp give us a lot of paid business, the principal business—not all, of course, but a good deal.

The next time the Ferdinand Club meets, I am going to introduce "Take It or Leave It" and probably will be thrown out of the club.

Plant A Garden—Save Your Month's Point Values

Very soon every one will be familiar with the exact price per pound to be charged for meats by the retailer—watch your newspapers closely. Shoppers should, by all means, watch and budget their months Point Values and not use over one-fourth of the points per week. Use fresh vegetables and fruits whenever possible. Try out recipes—that will make your Points go farther. If the vegeables or fruits you like most are scarce and not procurable please use those that are now available until your garden comes in—REMEMBER MR. AND MRS. YOU SHOULD PLANT A GARDEN—for will certainly NEED one.

Simple "point arithmetic" will assist Mrs. Housekeeper in vroviding for her family in the 31 days of this March. It is most important that you familiarize the THREE VALUES of your Rationing Book No. 2 which are: Point Value, Nutrition Value, Money Value

Buy sparingly, cook conservatively, serve wisely, save left overs and rearrange these and reserve again.

This office makes no attempt to appear dominative to your Point spending, this office's purpose is to inform and suggest. You are permitted to spend your points as you wish within this period—We hope, however, that you will spend them wisely for they are ALL you will have at this time. The success of Point Rationing lies in your care, use it wisely and you will have sufficient commodities (with the help of your garden). Be extravagant with your Points and your larder will soon be bare.

C. W. "Red" Briscoe,
Community Service Member, Rationing Board No. 22.

I forgot to mention last week that by the benevolence of my creditors and by good luck, I got by another first of the month.

Fortunately Horn and Greenfield have not been idle enough to get into any devilment in several weeks, and I hope you will pour in the work to save them from sin next week-end.

Up until 4 p. m. Sunday, March 14, 1943, Grenada had not had TWO fires at the SAME time, but we are tempting Providence.

"THE ARMY RECOGNIZES THE RAILROADS AS THE BACKBONE OF THE NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM"

—MAJOR GENERAL CHARLES P. GROSS
Chief of the Transportation Corps
United States Army

WHEN the newspapers headline the sensational exploits of our fighting forces, few realize the tremendous part the railroads play in putting our troops on far-distant battle fronts and in maintaining them there.

Before an army can set foot on a foreign shore, a colossal transportation job must be done at home. Fighting men move an average of six times before reaching a port of embarkation. To transport them calls for intensive organization. The engineer at the throttle, the signalman in the tower, the dispatcher intent over his train sheets, the switchman in the yard—all do their part.

To move a triangular division of 15,000 men involves the operation of 65 trains; an armored division with some 3,000 mobile units requires 75 trains. To transport millions of fighting men becomes a gigantic undertaking.

As General Gross has well said, the railroads are the backbone of the national transportation system—in peace and war. Besides moving our armies, they must also transport the materials of war. Guns and munitions, food, clothing and supplies—the job of war transportation is never-ending.

It is the Illinois Central's satisfying lot to be a part of this great effort.

The Next Governor

During the term of the next Governor of Mississippi the headaches and heartaches of reconstruction, inevitable aftermaths of war, will set in. The very best man available will probably be unable to do much about the headaches and the heartaches, but certainy it is up to us Mississippians to vote for the BEST man.

We have four aspirants: Lester Franklin (who, I confess, has some quite good planks in his platform) but whose only qualification for the office is the satisfaction of an ambition to be Governor; Dennis Murphree who has been often a bridesmaid but never a bride, having served three terms as Lieutenant Governor and having been unsuccessful in the race for Governor two or three times, and who always, when stretching forth for the coveted office has the office knocked away from him by the Land Patent gnome; Tom Bailey, an excellent man, but one whose only qualifications are that of helping governors on the floor of the House, doing a good job in that inferior capacity, let it be said; and, finally, Mike Conner, who, when weighed in the balances, was not found wanting, who served in the period when the Nation was suffering from the headaches and heartaches of a great economic depression, and who brought Mississippi's credit up to par and placed it upon such a sound footing that both Governors following him have had easy sailing. Mike took the cussing; Hugh White and Paul Johnson got the praise.

This is no time for experimenting with untried executives. Reemploy the man who made good, is good advice

Advertise Or Be Forgotten

A slogan for the war was suggested recently by T. Harry Thompson of the Gray and Rogers advertising agency of Philadelphia in a talk before the Interstate Advertising Managers' association meeting in Harrisburg, Pa.

"Advertise or be forgotten," he told them.

"Good will cannot be laid away in mothballs. It is just like the liberty we once had to fight for and now find that we must fight for all over again.

"That is exactly what is going to happen to the merchant or manufacturer who allows his service or his product to be erased from the minds of his patrons.

"He will be forced to fight all over again for the place he had attained before the war.

"In my opinion that is the soundest of reasons for a continuance of the use of advertising space by retailers and manufacturers who have been hit by the freezing or reduced production of civilian goods. They cannot possibly afford to risk being forgotten.

"Post-war industry is bound to be smarter than industry during the last war. Manufacturers are not going to be caught napping when the war ends. Even now there is much midnight oil being burned in laboratories and shops where plans and designs are being fashioned for the future.

"This war is not going to be sawed off sharp and clean so that all the men in the armed services will be dumped back on the labor market at one time. We can depend upon the government to be wise enough not to create a vast unemployment problem by throwing more manpower back on industry than it can absorb.

"As I see the future of advertising in my gazing crystal, the business is going to hold up now and later, too. Don't let us sell America short and don't let us sell advertising short because business people well know now that they must advertise or be forgotten."

Resolutions Overlooked

The Mississippi Press Association passed some fine resolutions, but it also failed to pass two very appropriate resolutions: one, asking state candidates to refrain from the custom of giving their announcements to the Sunday daily papers and then offering the weekly papers the announcements for the following Thursday or Friday; and, notifying the state candidates to carry their free puffs to the same place they carry their commercial printing—to the handful of Union Printers in Jackson, Meridian and Vicksburg.

If the state candidates have not sense enough to know that the weekly press collectively has more influence than the few daily papers, they have not sense enough to be dog catchers.

Library Threatened By Close Of WPA

Grenada County Library has been operating for several years through the support of City and County and in cooperation with WPA. This last has furnished fine workers and funds for distribution of County books This government aid was withdrawn March 15 and the whole responsibility for library service falls upon the citizens of Grenada County. Are we going to meet that challenge or are we going to let a growing educational organization wane into uselessness through lack of funds and interest

There has been a steady increase in library reading from year to year, but in the last nine months it has grown by leaps and bounds. Each month in 1943 has seen 80 new borrowers registered and each month over 100 books have been checked. Strangers in our midst have expressed surprise at the good book collection and satisfaction in finding library service to which they were accustomed in their home communities.

To take care of increased reading with a drastic cut in help will be a hard proposition. In order to engage one assistant, the Library Board has decided to use part of the book fund for the summer months. The service will be continued in the same manner where ever possible. Communities with volunteer helpers and schools will continue to have a monthly exchange of books and all citizens of Grenada County will have free access to the unit in Grenada, which is open daily except Sunday.

"Between Two Fires"

The firm of Juchheim and Bryant
Were having quite a spat.
The fire-truck stood a-snorting
As Juchheim grabbed his hat.

The controversy thundered.
A house on Main was all in flame;
A cabin cross the tracks
Was burning just the same.

"Get on where you belong, said Juchheim,
And don't be such a fool!"
"I still insist, said Bryant,
The poor folks need our care,
And I'm going to the cabin,
If I go anywhere!"

Said Jeuhheim, "I'm an older man than you.
It never pays to pet the poor;
Cultivate the folks with pull.
These folks on Main
Have purses that are full."

Bryant slapped his boss
Right in the face.
The boss pulled off his shoe
And gave him chase.

The town burned down,
From Isenberg's to Trusty's.
And this is saying naught
Of all the things that caught
Across the railroad tracks.

When many months had passed away,
The Commercial had the grace to say:
"A village burned the other day,
Out on the edge of Camp McCain."

Greenwood Gets New Buildings

Award of contract for a war housing project at Greenwood, Miss., was announced Saturday by John P. Broome, regional director of Federal Public Housing Authority.

S. F. Glenn, of Hattiesburg, Miss., has been awarded the contract, the amount of which is $249,038. The project includes 178 dwelling units, and calls for complete construction, including facilities, site improvements and landscaping. The contractor has 60 days in which to complete construction.

Recently we republished an article to the effect that the Centerville area (in which Camp Van Dorn is located) would get about a million dollars worth of housing.

Now we publish above an article from the Associated Press that Greenwood will get 178 new dwelling units within 60 days.

If Greenwood were a sardine can, it would have one sardine in the can; if Grenada were a sardine can, it would have sardines completely filling it and sardines running out the pores.

The Red Cross

In Grenada, a community that has been blessed—financially speaking—more than any community in North Mississippi, the collection of funds for the Red Cross has lagged disgracefully. The goal of $12,200.00 is not in shouting distance.

People of this community should arouse themselves and get busy to see that the quota is OVER subscribed

A Fine Move

We are happy to see that the two factions, if they may be called such, which were more or less competitive in the work of entertaining the soldiers, have gotten together under the USO-Military Maids banner.

With everyone in Grenada working in absolute harmony, Grenada people will be hopelessly snarled up in attempting to furnish adequate dancing partners for the tens of thousands of soldiers in this area.

Congratulations to all parties concerned in reaching the only sensible conclusion—"in unity there is strength."

A Radical Change Needed

I see where the Governor has visited Parchman to check up on conditions there following a big January breakout and a larger one in February.

I do not know Mr. Love, the Superintendent, but I do know that he is responsible for conditions there.

Governor Johnson should get rid of Mr. Love and put someone in charge who can prevent these wholesale escapes of desperate prisoners, whose runnings-about and carryings-on have kept three states in a turmoil for a month. Our people have worries enough without worrying about desperadoes being at large.

Saturated Or Superheated

A good many years ago practically all locomotives were what is now known as SATURATED, by that I mean when the water in the boiler was turned into steam and the engineer opened the throttle, the steam rushed from steam dome into a big pipe and down to the cylinders and after pushing the piston one way escaped to the air and made that choo! choo! sound.

A SMART MAN

A smart man decided that we were not getting enough power for the amount of fuel used, so he invented what is known as a HEATER and fastened it up in front end of boiler with some tubes going back thru the flues and then back to front end so that when engineer opened the throttle the steam would go back to fire box to be reheated before going to cylinders.

In this way the water was all taken out and steam was so hot and dry it had lots of extra power without using any more fuel.

I'VE BEEN TOLD

I've been told that we don't use all of our thinking capacity on account of it being hard work also we are SATURATED with so many old customs and ideas, its hard to break away from the regular beaten path. It seems that the days are not far distant when the old customs and ideas will be passing away and we will have to be a superheater to go down the line.

The table, draped with lace was centered by a three tiered wedding cake circled by pink roses, Dutch Iris and daisies. Ice cream and nuts were served.

The guest list included, Rev. and Mrs. Liles, Colonel and Mrs. Lipscomb, Mr. Jones Allison, Miss Margurete Finney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heath, Miss Schumaker and the members of the immediate family.

PATTERSON-SANDERSON

At a lovely evening ceremony Friday, March 12, 1943 at eight o'clock, Louise Olivia Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanderson, of Grenada, became the bride of Lieutenant Samuel Wallace Patterson, III of Camp McCain, Miss., son of Mrs. Ruth Patterson and the late Mr. Patterson, of Lynchburg, Va. Rev. Glen E. Wiley, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Grenada, officiating. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a charming spring suit of American beauty and chose a brimless hat of beige felt and brown slippers. Her corsage of white orchids adorned her coat lapel. She was attended by her friend, Miss Margie Smith. Miss Smith wore an attractive spring suit of gold and her corsage was or ropes.

The groom was attended by his friend, Lieut. Richards Adams, of Camp McCain.

Nuptial music was furnished by Miss Wilson at the organ.

Simple decorations consisting of two white wicker baskets filled with graceful Picardy gladoli and broadleaf ferns flanked the center of the rostrum where the vows were said and in evidence were the church flag and the American flag, both adding dignity to the scene where numerous Army uniforms were to be seen.

The bride graduated from Higu School in Monroe, La, attended Junior College a branch of University of Louisiana, and graduated from the University of Louisiana in 1942, receiving a B. A. degree.

She made her home with her aunt, Miss Mary Hester, of Monroe while receiving her education She is a talented and popular member of the social set of Grenada, and a member of one of the most prominent families in Grenada county. Her father has held a responsible position as assistant cashier of Grenada Bank for many years.

The groom, a Lieutenant of the 346th Infantry Headquarters Co., was a graduate of the High School at Lynchburg and after graduation worked for the Buick Agency of that city until entering the Army.

Mrs. E. L. Betz, Jr., and Miss Maydell Betz, of Memphis, will spend this week end with their mother, Mrs. E. L. Betz.

Social Interest Reached New High At AAB

Social interest reached a new high this week at the Army Air Base, at Grenada, when the third weekly enlisted men's dance was celebrated in the sapcious hall of the Officers' Mess. This time interest had extended the limits of the home town and numerous charming visitors came in from Batesville and Coffeeville. Music this week was furnished by the Grenadiers, a live wire soldier orchestra from Camp McCain suplemented by a couple of talented Air Base musicians. The Mess Hall was handsomely decorated in patriotic colors and dancing lasted until midnight.

Special appreciation was expressed to Mrs. W. W. Whitaker for her untiring efforts in helping to provide both musical talent and a piano for the occasion.

Arrangements for the dance were made by the Commanding Officer of the 443rd Base Headquarters and Air Base Squadron, Major Jacob L. Holcomb and Special Service Officer, Lt. Murrel J. Ades.

Among the attending chaperones were:

Grenada, Mesdames D. G. Ross, Billy Saunders, F. T. Gerard, John Martin, E. L. Morrow and Albert George.

YANKS IN ACTION

By Jim Ferguson in Oakland (Cal.) Tribune.

Flesh of my flesh and love of my love
In the far-away land toward Japan,
Since he learned to toddle hee'd toddle alone, or refused to hold on to my hand.
"I'll go you Old Topper" he soon learned to say when I dared him to run me a race.
And many's the the time he disturbed my mute rhym when with troops he invaded the place.
He handed down my colors and ran up his own when impatient I tried to command:
He laughed in my face with never a trace of a thought that I'd taken my stand.
He grew up so quickly I never knew the years 'till he rose from the table
one day
Saying, "Dad, .time is due, I'll be now leaving you to get out and earn my own pay."
So, while I am grieving my first born was learing to work out his own future plan.
And now he has made it for for gold I would not trade it—His stand in that land toward Japan.

Seed Money

There's only one thing more foolish than killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. That's living up the money that has been put away to buy the seed for next year's crops.

Although G-E turbines and lamps and refrigerators don't grow from any seed you can buy at a seed store, yet any manufacturer—no matter what he makes—has a seed problem just the same. For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by Geneal Electric, have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps five times as efficient as Edison's, vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Victory Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

Dear Mrs. Davis: we received your card and have been sending the paper to Robert. That's certainly a fine pair of mules hitched to that mover.

Pretty soon, when the rookies are turned loose, you can hardly get into a store, or cafe, and. when you get in, you can hardly get out. Grenada aint seen nothing yet.

Glad to see some publicity coming in from the AAB,If Grenada did not have a huge army camp nearby, it would think the AAB the grandest thing in the world.

That grinding you hear is Abernethy grinding his knife to cut off some of Ford's pets.

The old line politicians had better get all they can before the war is over. The 11 or 12 million men now in service will take over when peace comes.

Warning to Grenada boys away from home in the service: you had better get you a wife where you are because these Camp McCain and AAB boys are going to marry all of the Grenada girls.

Our Mr. Greenfield looks mighty nice in his new suit.

Mr. Huffman is glad the 15th has come and gone as he can get some sleep at night. This income tax business has taken ten pounds off his frame.

Mrs. Odie Carpenter has moved to Wichita Falls, Texas, and has renewed her subscription.

Soldiers, soldiers, soldiers—a constant stream of them strolling idly by. I certainly hope the USO, or whoever is responsible for the matter, will soon get a building more nearly adequate for the thousands of men here.

I think there is too much flag-waving and band-playing and hocum and bunkum about the soldiers. As young, healthy men it is their DUTY to defend their country, and I do not believe, having been a soldier in the last war, they want to be "made over" so much. Unfortunately it is ALWAYS an old man's war, and the young man's fight.

Three birds with ONE stone: Guy and L. L. Branscome and Charles Perry all renewed at the same time.

Mr. Hillary Talbert, who has run Cosboma County for many years, was a Sunday visitor to Grenada.

PFE (private forever) John Rufus Pery was visting home folks this week.

We have some beautiful designs of stationery (which we make right here) for men at the AAB.

FOR SALE: a one-horse 3-phase Westinghouse motor. Guaranteed to be in first-class condition. $50.00 cash money at GCW.

Uncle Nan Staten from Oxberry was a recent visitor from Oxberry. So was Grover Cunningham. So was my old "secretary", Sebe Cdlark.

Grandmaw Whitaker is getting younger.

Aint they sweet.

You fellows who want 2nd Army insignia on your stationery, or 4th Corps Area insignia can get it at the GCW.

I believe it would work out to the advantage of all if the drug stores could arrange among themselves for one of them to open up each Sunday morning in rotation.

Sam and Sally Mitchell were over from the village of Clarksdale Sunday to see a real town, and, while here ate off Ed Bass and wife. Also paid subscription.

Out of the abundance of money that you have made, give generously to the Red Cross, the Great Mother of ALL.

Forgotten last week. The city law and the State Highway Patrolmen apprehended an army officer with about 12 cases of hard licker, just south of the river on 51, haled him into court, fined him $100.00 and costs, and publicly broke up the licker bottles, much to the tongue twisted and thirsty bystanders.

If you want to be on the winning side, vote for Mike Conner this year. Conner and I are tired of sucking the hind tit. We are going to town in 1943.

General Clarkson is already rubbing some of the rookiness off the rookies. They will be soldiers soon.

Funeral For John Floyd Sunday P. M.

Funeral services for John D. Floyd, 65, whose death occurred February 19, following an automobile wreck at Venice, California where he was working, will be held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock and interment will follow in the local cemetery Mr. Floyd was a passenger in the car which had a collision with a truck. He was the only one seriously injured. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death.

Mrs. Alton Black, daughter of the deceased, is accompanying the body on the long trip. Other members of the family are coming in a car.

John Floyd is a native of this section, and was one of the community's most highly respected citizens. He was a member of the local Baptist church a deacon and clerk for many years. He served Beat one as supervisior for several years. Only a few years ago he went to California to make his home wtih his daughter, Mrs. Black.

Besides Mrs. Black he leaves another daughter, Mrs. Whitten, who with a son, Fred Floyd, living in California. The only other son, John Sayle Floyd, lives in Memphis. Four brothers, Sam Floyd, Pink Floyd, Will Floyd, and Wes Floyd, and three sisters, Mrs. McCallister, Mrs. Jim Terry and Miss Mary Floyd survive.—Coffeeville Courier.

"Ike" Pearson Is Leader With Rifle and Pistol

By DAN MAGILL, JR.
(PFC, U. S. Marines)

Paris Island, S. C.—Ike Pearson, Philadelphia Phillies' right hander, now in "Boot Camp" at the Marine barracks here, turned out to be another Wild Bill Hickok on the pistol and rifle ranges.

The twenty-five year old Mississippian led his platoon of officer candidates in qualifying with both the .45 pistol and .30 Girard rifle.

He had a percentage of 90 with the hand weapon and a score of 316 x 340 with the shoulder weapon to easily win expert medals.

His closest competitor with the rifle was a husky Alabaman, Aubrey Bardon, former Centenary football star, who fired a score of 315—just one point shy of Pearson's mark.

Ike's practice rounds with the rifle were so high that several coaches anticipated him breaking the course record of 328. On the "off hand" (standing position) Ike received permission to discard his regulation sling. And he was in the bull's eye ring every time he shot.

Said Ike, "I never used a sling back home in Grenada (Miss.) while quail hunting." Ike said he had his first gun—an air rifle—when he was only five years old. At ten he was hunting with a shot gun.

The Japs had better seek cover when "DEADEYE IKE" Pearson draws a bead on them.

Ike's addreses now is, P. F. C. Isaac O. Pearson, III, Co. H—Candidate Class, Marines Barracks, Quantico, Virginia.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Know the Importance of VITAMIN B1

When You Make Up Your Weekly Food List

WHY VITAMIN B1 IS VITAL to the HEALTH of your Family

One group of Vitamins is known as the "B Group". The most important of these are B1 or thiamine, B2 (G) or Riboflavin, and Niocin (formerly called nicotinic acid).

A serious deficiency of B1 results in diseases of the nervous system such as beri-beri or polyneuritis. An adequate supply seems to mean a better appetite, steadier nerves, and better digestion. The following foods are rich in vitamin B1:

Pork	Peanuts	Oranges
Enriched White Bread	Beef	Veal
Whole Wheat Bread	Ham	Baked Beans
Fresh Lima Beans	Green Peas	Cereals
Dried Lima Beans	Liver

PROTECTIVE STORAGE AND COOKERY IMPORTANT

Let your electric refrigerator protect the vital vitamins in your food and give your food protective cookery. It protects up to 91 per cent of the vital vitamins and minerals. Simply: Use little or no water—cook slowly—never boil violently—cook in covered utensils—do not stir.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Akron, Ohio had its beginning as the WORLD'S RUBBER MANUFACTURING CAPITAL in 1870 when its first rubber plant was started by Dr. B. F. Goodrich.
The switching of Dakar, French West Africa, to the side of the United Nations meant the establishment for the Allies of an important port for the shipment of crude rubber, among other important war essentials.
Ateabrine, the chemist's answer to the war time shortage of quinine, is serving to step up the collection of rubber in the malaria-infested jungles of Brazil. Here is a case of a synthetic product being used to stimulate the gathering of a natural product that is rapidly being replaced by synthetics in the United States.
Ordinary tires are now cured in molds at factories in 40 to 50 minutes. Before organic accelerators were developed by B. F. Goodrich it took about five hours to vulcanize a tire.

Bake Your Own!

Those of you who have chosen homemaking as a career can set aside a half day for baking your own goodies right in your own oven. There are few things nicer than coming into a kitchen full of busy bustling, testing the cake, plumping fat loaves of bread on racks to cool, or packing cookies in fresh wax paper for pantry shelves—for those fine boys in the service!

When sugar rationing first came into the picture, most of us feared that it would not allow enough for home baking needs, but we have found ways to make sugar stretch. Or, perhaps we should say, corn syrups and honey to make baking possible.

With eggs up in price and fats becoming scarce, we have changed our recipes to fill these needs, too! Today's recipes may not call for the quantity of materials that yesterday's did, but they can make just as tempting a product.

Hot Water Sponge Cake.
(Makes 2 8-inch layers)

- 1 cup sifted cake flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon lemon juice
- 6 tablespoons hot water

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and fluffy, about 10 minutes. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly until thick enough to hold a soft peak. Beat in lemon juice, add hot water, and beat until thick after each addition. Fold in flour in small amounts. Bake in ungreased tube pan or lightly greased layer-cake pans in a moderate (350-degree) oven. A tube cake takes 45 minutes to bake, layer cakes 25 to 30 minutes.

Ever tried a fragrant gingerbread baked in a ring? The slices can be fairly thin and the cake will really go far! Or, you can fill the center with apple sauce and serve as a dessert!

It might be said of this cookie that it's spice and all things nice—but you'll notice I didn't say sugar, because it uses corn syrup:

Cream shortening with corn syrup and egg. Add flavorings. Sift dry ingredients together and add to creamed mixture. Alternate dry ingredients with apple sauce. Fold in chopped raisins and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven 15 to 18 minutes.

Who ever heard of carrots in cookies? Well, the surprise is a nice one, and the cookies are popping full of vitamins when you make:

Honey-Carrot Cookies.
(Makes 5 dozen)

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 cups quick-cooking oatmeal
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup chopped nutmeats
- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup strained honey
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup grated raw carrot

Sift dry ingredients together. Sift again. Add oatmeal, raisins and nutmeats. Mix well. Cream shortening, add honey, creaming thoroughly. Add eggs, then carrots, beating well. Stir in dry ingredients and blend thoroughly. Drop by spoonfuls on a greased baking sheet. Flatten with a floured fork. Bake for 15 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Store only when cold.

Whole grain, especially oatmeal, is rich in that important morale vitamin, B1, or thiamin, as it is sometimes called.

Oatmeal Refrigerator Rolls.

- ½ cup shortening
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ½ cup boiling water
- 1 cup quick-cooking oatmeal
- 1 cake yeast
- ½ cup lukewarm water
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2¼ cups all-purpose flour

Add boiling water to sugar, salt, shortening and oatmeal. Stir well. Cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water, then add with beaten egg to oatmeal mixture. Stir in half of flour, add rest of flour. Place in a greased bowl. Cover with waxed paper and store in refrigerator. When needed, remove from refrigerator and form into cloverleafs in greased muffin tins. Cover and let rise in a warm place until almost double. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a 425-degree oven.

Tie a String Around Your Finger: The technique's different when you do your own vegetables—and you must keep these pointers on tap if you would get the most out of them:

Peel potatoes thinly—their mineral treasures are hidden right under that skin.

Use green vegetables as soon as possible after buying. They lose quantities of their vitamin C just sitting and being exposed to air.

Add dressing immediately to vegetables and fruits after cutting them. The coating prevents some vitamin loss.

Put away the soda box when cooking green vegetables. It's alkaline, and destroys vitamins.

Shell peas or lima beans only just before using. Wash leafy greens just before cooking. The percentage of vitamin loss will be lessened.

Start cooking frozen foods before thawing. It is believed that less vitamin C is destroyed by that method.

THIS cover was a twofold conservation measure in the most literal sense. Its purpose was not to cover shabby upholstery but to protect handsome damask from everyday wear and tear.

If you have an especially difficult chair to cover, you will save time by fitting a muslin pattern first. Then you can snip until it fits perfectly around arms and other supports and, if you make a mistake in the pattern just stitch a patch over it and start over again. Before removing the pattern from the chair, plan the openings so that they will lap neatly and be sure they are long enough. Meat Ceilings to Check Black Market; Bismarck Sea Triumph Forecasts U. S. Drive to Sweep Japs From New Guinea; Small Firms Get Billions for War Work

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Even the most advanced air base in Tunisia gets its mail, as pictured above. This photo of the mailman arriving and being welcomed at an advanced U. S. air base of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's army, should be an incentive to those on the home front to write and keep writing to loved ones no matter how far away on Uncle Sam's service they may be.

BLACK MARKET:
Action on Meat

Action rather than words was the keystone of a program sponsored by the OPA and the department of agriculture to smash the black markets in meat.

First barrage laid down in this offensive was Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown's order imposing specific retail price ceilings on meat, beginning with pork products. Second attack came in the announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard of orders licensing livestock slaughterers as well as those who buy and sell livestock for slaughter.

Effective April 1, the meat ceilings were expected to check black markets and end an "unjust squeeze" on packers. Mr. Brown said they would also lay the groundwork for the start of meat rationing about April 15. Pork ceilings were to be followed by uniform regulations on beef and lamb.

When red meat rationing is undertaken, the order will include bacon, butter, cheese, lard and other cooking fats.

With prices uniform throughout a community on all cuts of meat, Brown said, it would be difficult for dealers to get rid of illicit meat at higher prices.

RUSSIANS:
Repeat Old History

Back over the snowy Russian steppes where Napoleon's army perished long ago reeled the retreating German legions.

While the collapse of Nazi resistance at Rzhev had been of high immediate strategic importance to the Red command it was prophetic of further Nazi reverses, for with the whole German salient west of Moscow unhinged, the fate of Orel and Vyazma to the east virtually sealed.

The rapidity of the Russian advance was indicated by the capture soon afterward of Olenino 35 miles west of Rzhev giving control of the railway running from Moscow to Velikie Luki.

While German spokesmen described the Rzhev defeat as a strategic withdrawal to shorten Nazi lines, Allied military observers saw in it a threat to all Axis defenses from Smolensk to the Baltic sea.

In the South the Russians had moved forward more slowly, impeded by the first thaws of oncoming spring. But Red forces were reported driving forward from recaptured Lgov, important railroad center west of Kursk.

WAR COST:
Exceeds 43 Billion

More than $43,830,452,651 was spent for war purposes in the first eight months of the current fiscal year, it was disclosed by the treasury department.

The war department spent the most for war—$27,303,243,684. The navy spent $11,502,653,956, the maritime commission $1,685,143,236 and the war shipping administration $733,211,740.

Expenditures by the government for all purposes during the eight-month period totaled $47,600,944,727, while net revenue totaled $9,512,808,497. The government's deficit for the eight months was $38,084,632,608.

SMALL BUSINESS:
Good News Ahead

Good news for small business concerns was forthcoming from Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman of the War Production board when he announced that war contracts placed with smaller companies "will run into billions of dollars by the end of the year."

Wilson said that more than $30,000,000 of work a week is being placed now with small business firms through the efforts of the Smaller War Plants corporation.

The WPB's program for small business, Wilson said, includes: 1—An increase in the number of prime contracts placed with small plants; 2—Widening of WPB's lending policy to make loans to small business easier; 3 — Certification of more small plants to handle war contracts.

BISMARCK SEA:
Disaster for Japs

Three facts of major significance to the future of the war in the Pacific emerged from the stunning victory of General MacArthur's bombers over the 22-ship Jap armada in the Bismarck sea, approaching New Guinea.

Fact No. 1 was that in sinking the 22 enemy ships and bagging 82 Jap planes, MacArthur's airmen proved that a force of land-based bombers manned by skilled pilots is more than a match for a seaborne invasion force. Fact No. 2 was that the victory removed the danger of invasion to the Australian mainland for the time being at least. Fact No. 3 was that the enemy garrisons at Lae and Salamaua, New Guinea, would not now be reinforced, for it was estimated that 15,000 Jap troops perished when Yankee bombs sank their transports.

Military observers believed that one of the immediate results of the Jap disaster would be an increase in pressure by General MacArthur's armies besieging Lae and Salamaua with the object of driving the Japs entirely from New Guinea.

The clean-sweep character of the American triumph was summarized in General MacArthur's terse communique: "We have achieved a victory of such completeness as to assume the proportions of a major disaster to the enemy."

NAVY:
Predict 10% Losses

A navy "big enough to dominate all seas over the world" was envisioned by Secretary Frank Knox, who added a warning that the American people must be prepared to expect a 10 per cent casualty rate in navy personnel before the war's end.

Secretary Knox and ranking naval officials unfolded a program for building up personnel strength to 2,250,000 by July, 1944, in testimony before the house subcommittee on naval appropriations. Appropriations totaling $3,816,000,000 to implement this program were approved by the subcommittee.

The navy had 3,205 ships in commission on January 1, 1943, according to Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of the bureau of personnel. This number will be increased to approximately 4,100 by the end of the year, he added.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

LONDON: "Take a towel with you when you go visiting" was, in effect, what Britons were told in a new set of rationing regulations. In announcing towel concessions for factory and medical workers, Hugh Dalton, president of the Board of Trade, said that in future "we must be prepared to take our towel with us if we go away to stay, or if asked to do so, to the hairdresser."

LOS ANGELES: Canned baby food is becoming more popular—particularly with adults, according to Sam M. White, secretary of the Southern California Retail Grocers' association. The reason, he says, is the present rationing system. The low ration point value of canned baby foods constitute their chief appeal. A purchaser can get a 4 or 5½ ounce can for one point.

OUR LORD'S INTERCESSORY PRAYER

LESSON TEXT—John 17:1-8, 13-26.
GOLDEN TEXT — "Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are."—John 17:11.

There are some times and places so sacred that one is instinctively hushed into reverent devotion. When Christ prayed in holy intercession (as recorded in John 17) on the night before His suffering His disciples must have been lifted into the very presence of the Eternal One. It was a holy experience.

He prayed for Himself, but even more did He pray for His believing followers. To know that someone is praying for us is indeed an anchor in a time of storm, a strong help in the hour of conflict or of service for Christ.

But to know that the Master prayed for you and me—that is enough to send us, like the disciples of old, out to face an unbelieving world in His conquering name. He prayed for Himself—and He prayed for me!

I. He Prayed for Himself (vv. 1-8).

He looked up and said: "Father," and then He was ready to pray. So close was He to God that there was just this simple recognition of their communion. In Christ are we not as close as He?

What did Jesus ask for Himself? At first thought it seems a little unusual that He asked

1. For Recognition of His Divine Glory (vv. 1-5).

Why would He who had just given the disciples an example of and an admonition to humility desire to have His glory manifested? Be sure it was not a matter of selfish pride. He had finished His work (for He counted redemption as complete throughout His prayer), and now the glory which He laid down when He came to earth (Phil. 2:6-8) was to be resumed.

He wants man to see Him now not only as the compassionate Son of man, but the glorious Son of God, able to save. It is right that the glory of Christ should be magnified and recognized by the whole creation. He is worthy!

2. For the Manifestation of His Grace (vv. 6-8).

The Father had given Christ the heart devotion of those who believed in Him. Note that their faith rested on the name of God (v. 6), and upon His Word which had come to them and to us through Christ.

He recognized their position and standing in Him and established it before God and man. He then prayed for them (read vv. 9-17) that they might be kept in an evil world as a testimony to the grace and power of God in the human heart.

This leads to His intercession for all believers.

II. He Prayed for All Believers (vv. 18-26).

Christians are not simply the avowed adherents to a particular form of belief, they are "sent" ones. As the Father sent Him into the world, "even so send I them into the world," said Christ.

Christ has gone to be with the Father, but He has left those who believe in Him as His witnesses, His representatives. For this they need holiness. He prayed:

1. For Their Consecration (vv. 18, 19).

For their sakes He consecrated Himself. Surely if He needed it, we do far more. It is not only His will for us, but His prayer. How wonderfully that prayer was answered we see as we look back over the intervening 19 centuries, from His immediate disciples on through the martyrs, the missionary pioneers of all ages, the faithful preachers and teachers of the gospel, yes and "livers" of the gospel too. He knew, He prayed, God answered. Are you in that blessed host of consecrated believers?

2. For Their Unity and Glory (vv. 20-26).

There is a refreshing simplicity about the Christian faith which is utterly different from all the complications which man has prepared and superimposed upon it. Essentially it is a matter of God having sent His Son into the world to be the Redeemer of men. He and the Father are one, He and His followers are one, and so we are all one. We who today believe are included (read vv. 20-23).

This is an inward unity of the Spirit, not an outward union of organizations. The answer to our difficulty is not the dissolution of denominations (although there do seem to be far too many subdivisions, too), but the uniting of all groups in a oneness of love and devotion to Christ, and a united emphasis on the gospel.

There is something more here. This unity puts Christ's followers into the place where His glory may be revealed in and upon them. It is His prayer that we should behold in our Saviour the glory which God had given Him because He loved Him before the foundation of the world.
